PUBLICATIONS OF THE LAW LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Reports for Congress are produced by the Directorate of Legal Research of the Law Library of Congress in response to requests from Congress on issues concerning international, comparative, and foreign law. The Directorate of Legal Research is a unique academy of expertise whose faculty of foreign attorneys and research staff is dedicated to providing world-class international, comparative, and foreign law research, reference, and information services to the U.S. Congress. The Directorate's full-time staff of foreign-trained attorneys from over twenty jurisdictions are led and supervised by two executive-level division chiefs and assisted by a staff of multilingual legal research analysts. The Directorate responds to Congressional research and reference inquiries on the legal systems of all nations, past and present, on the basis of the Law Library's global collection, the Global Legal Information Network (GLIN, available at www.glin.gov), and other electronic databases. During fiscal year 2004, the faculty of the Directorate consulted over 36,000 sources and conducted over 43,000 electronic searches as they prepared over 4,200 pages of legal analysis and reference assistance that covered over 160 jurisdictions. Directorate responses are delivered in whatever format is best suited to the requester and may be in the form of newly commissioned single-jurisdiction or multinational legal reports, previously prepared studies, confidential memoranda, quick-answer oral consultations, briefings in a Member's office, or expert witness testimony at committee hearings.

We invite you to visit the Law Library website at www.loc.gov/law, which details all of our services and provides access to the Global Legal Information Network, a cooperative international database of official texts of laws, regulations, and other complementary legal sources of many foreign jurisdictions. We also invite you to visit our Congress-only website at www.loc.gov/law/congress for other Law Library products that are produced in response to recurring congressional interest. An online monthly, the WORLD LAW BULLETIN, is the Directorate's monthly flagship publication that provides the U.S. Congress over 500 updates on foreign law developments annually. Updates are chosen for their special significance to the U.S. Congress as they relate to legislative interests or foreign policy. Foreign Law Briefs cover topical legal issues and Country Law Studies provide overviews of legal systems of individual nations. Congressional workload permitting, the Law Library also serves the research needs of the other branches of the U.S. government and renders reference service in international, comparative, and foreign law to the general public, including international organizations, embassies, state governments, and the professional legal, academic, and library communities.

The principal resources for all Law Library publications are its collection and research staff. The Law Library's holdings of over 2.6 million volumes constitute the world's largest and most comprehensive legal collection. Its staff of over forty-five legal specialists, researchers, and librarians – competent in more than fifty languages – can provide research and reference information on all of the major legal systems of the world, contemporary and historical.

For further information about the topic of this publication, the Global Legal Information Network, or for making a research request on international, comparative, or foreign law, please contact the Director of Legal Research, Walter Gary Sharp, Sr., who may be reached by phone at (202) 707-9148, by email at wsharp@loc.gov, or by fax at (202) 707-1820. Research requests may also be directed to the Law Library's Congress-only Hotline at (202) 707-2700, which is staffed whenever either Chamber is in session.

Short term Alien visitors

In addition to his passport and in some cases visa, an alien visitor, remaining in France for a stay not exceeding three months, is required to be able to supply documents showing the object and conditions of his stay and, if necessary, his financial means of existence and guarantees of his repatriation<sup>1</sup>. The documents to be provided are as follow:<sup>2</sup>

- tourist stay: any documents establishing the object, conditions and notably the duration of the stay;
- business stay: any documents showing the profession of the visitor, the establishments or organizations he is visiting;
- private or family stay: a certificate signed by the individual who will provide for his lodging. The identity and the address of the certificate's signatory must be certified by either the competent mayor or police commissary;
- hospitalization: documents showing that the alien meets all the conditions for being admitted to a public hospital.

Furthermore, innkeepers, landlords of furnished lodgings and camping managers are required to ask each alien visitor to fill out an individual police form "fiche individuelle de police" containing the following information: name, date and place of birth, nationality, and domicile. They must submit these forms to the police every day.<sup>3</sup>

French Law does not require that resident aliens check with the French authorities once a year. However, it requires that every resident alien notify his change of address, within eight days of arrival to his new residence, to the competent police station or to the city hall when there is no police station. When notifying his new address, the resident alien must mention his former address and his profession.<sup>4</sup>

Greece

In general, under Law No. 2910 of 5/2/2001<sup>1</sup>, aliens are required to obtain residence and work permits granted by the Committee on Immigration or the consular offices before entering the country. They are also required to declare to the above Committee any change in their personal status.

Law 2910 does not require that foreigners appear before the police authorities annually. However, this requirement may be imposed on certain aliens who are deemed to be a threat to security and public order.<sup>2</sup>

European Union

Only foreigners who cross the borders illegally by any means are subject to fingerprinting in the Member States of the European Union, including Greece. This is required by EC Regulation No 2725/2000 which established "Eurodac".<sup>3</sup> This is a central database located within the Commission for the purpose mainly of comparing the fingerprints of those who apply for asylum in a Member State. However, this Regulation imposes also on all Member States to "promptly take the fingerprints of all fingers of every alien of at least 14 years of age who is apprehended by the competent control authorities in connection with the irregular crossing by land, sea or air of the border, having come from a third country and who is not turned back." Thus, Member States must transmit to the Central unit, the fingerprint data, sex, date of fingerprinting for the purpose of comparing with the fingerprint data of applicants for asylum transmitted by other Member States and which have already being recorded. The data will be stored in the Central unit for 2 years and afterwards will be erased automatically. Member States must comply with the strict requirements imposed by EC rules on the protection of personal data and privacy as well as the provisions of the European Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms.

According to the European Commission, the requirement of fingerprinting anyone who applies for asylum or crosses the borders of the Union illegally, will assist the Member States in knowing who enters their territory and thus strengthen the national security.

Moreover, the obligation to fingerprint alien illegal immigrants in the Member States whose identity cannot be established otherwise derives from a decision of the Executive Committee of the Schengen Agreement<sup>4</sup>. Under this decision which is obligatory, Greece is required to fingerprint every alien

IMMIGRATION REGISTRATION PROCEDURES APPLICABLE TO FOREIGN NATIONALS

The entry of aliens into the Italian Republic, for both short term and long term stays, is governed by the provisions of the Consolidation act on immigration and by those contained in the implementing regulation.<sup>1</sup>

Aliens in possession of the required documents may enter Italy and may stay for certain periods of time determined according to the purpose of their visit. They need to apply for a temporary permit to the police authority in the province in which they enter, which permit may be renewed on request by the same authority. The law does not require aliens to check in with Italian authorities on a regular basis. However, they have to inform the competent police authority of their change of domicile within fifteen days. In cases of doubt concerning personal identity, an alien may be subject to identification procedures, including fingerprints. In addition, all persons, including relatives, who provide lodging or employment to aliens, or transfer to them immovable property or allow its use, must notify the police within forty eight hours.

Presently the Italian Parliament is considering amendments to immigration legislation, especially concerning illegal immigrants, but the text of the proposed amendments is not yet available.

IMMIGRATION REGISTRATION PROCEDURES APPLICABLE
TO FOREIGN NATIONALS

Immigration Regulations in the United Kingdom require that foreign nationals, aged sixteen and over, who are given leave to enter the United Kingdom for more than six months, or three months if entering for employment purposes, register with the police in the area which they are living.<sup>1</sup> The rules also permit the registration requirement in exceptional circumstances where the “immigration officer considers it as necessary to ensure that a foreign national complies with the terms of a limited leave to enter.”<sup>2</sup>

Registration requirements also apply to foreign nationals who have not previously registered and are granted an extension of stay that has the effect of extending their total period of stay in the United Kingdom beyond a period of three months from the date of arrival in the case of those engaged in employment and six months for others.<sup>3</sup>

For shorter periods of residence, certain aliens must also register with the police.<sup>4</sup>
